MATTINGLY BURIED TODAY WITH HONORS

With full military honors provided by the Honor Guard of the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202 of the American Legion, Richard M. Mattingly, 31-year-old local tailor and Purple Heart veteran of Korean duty, was buried late this morning in the National Cemetery.

Mattingly was fatally shot at dawn Wednesday in Harrisburg and his body was found in his partly submerged auto in the Susquehanna River along Front St. near the Taylor Bridge at Harrisburg.

There was a requiem mass at 10 o'clock in the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church where Mattingly had been a member. The officiating minister was the rector, the Rev. Fr. J. Harold Mowen. The service lasted about 45 minutes.

The pallbearers for today's services were Richard Deane, Gerald Bixler, Herbert Bishop, Donald Hershey, Thomas McAllister and Frank Krichen.

Over 500 At Viewing
Friday evening more than 500 went to the Peters Funeral Home on Carlisle St. for the public viewing from 7 to 9 o'clock.

In the Dauphin County jail at Harrisburg, Edward Wilcox Hepford, 47-year-old junior high school social studies teacher, is a prisoner awaiting a hearing next morning on the charge of murdering Mattingly. Warden Joseph F. Salinger, who once was stationed here with the Pennsylvania State Police, described Hepford as a "model prisoner."

Burglary Charges Filed
Hepford was charged before City Alderman John L. Madden Jr. Friday night with burglary and attempted burglary.

A Harrisburg policeman spotted Hepford while on patrol the morning of the murder. After the arrest, police said Hepford admitted breaking into a house at 931 Front St. and an old house at 1414 Second St. He also admitted the theft of a gun at the same time, a .25 caliber automatic at the 1414 North Second St. address.

Only Two Visitors
Hepford's only visitors at the jail have been his attorney and his pastor.

Salinger said Hepford is well-behaved and is "bearing up well under the circumstances." He occupies a cell in Tier B, one of four tiers in the 120-cell prisoners' block at the county prison. He shed his street clothes for blue denim after his physical examination upon being committed to the jail last Wednesday after his arrest, soon after the Mattingly car was pulled from the Susquehanna.

Has Chores And TV
Hepford spends his time at chores, watching television or strolling about the exercise yard. He is free to watch television daily from 7 to 9 p.m. in the recreation room serving his tier of cells.

On Wednesday and Friday evenings the TV hours extend to 11 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday, the ball games are on TV from 2 to 5 p.m. for the prisoners. Part of Hepford's time is spent in cleaning his cell and mopping and waxing his cell floor. Each day he hands cell checks at 5 a.m., 11 a.m., 4 p.m. and 9 p.m.

The U. S. Army's new combat methods designed to meet the problems of nuclear warfare will be outlined to the troops during their stay at Indiantown Gap. ## Holiday Weekend Death Toll Is 47 Up To 10 A.M. Today

10 a.m. EDT, 40 traffic, 8 boating, 4 drowning, 3 miscellaneous. Total 47.

Millions of Americans poured out on the nation's highways and byways today on the first full day of the long holiday weekend.

All of the nation's 73 million vehicles are expected to be on the move sometime during this Fourth of July weekend.

The National Safety Council estimated Americans will cover more than seven billion road miles and warned that as many as 370 persons might die in traffic mishaps.

The estimate of 370 traffic deaths, the council said, would be 60 more than counted on a non-holiday weekend of the same length. The weekend is computed from the 78 hours between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

In a comparative survey, The Associated Press counted 348 traffic deaths on the nonholiday weekend spanning the hours between 6 p.m. Friday, June 17, and midnight Monday, June 20.

This is the second of three Saturday-Sunday-Monday holidays during the warm weather season. Memorial Day was the first, Labor Day will be the last.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, 367 persons perished in traffic accidents. In all 579 persons died in mishaps that weekend, including 77 drownings, 48 boating accidents and 87 deaths from miscellaneous accidents.

Castro Begs For Tankers To Stop Disastrous Fuel Famine Which Cuba Faces

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government was reported wooing shipping circles in the United States and Europe today in a bid for tankers to avert what could be a disastrous oil famine in Cuba. The reports spread as Cuban officials and petroleum technicians insisted they are capable of running three foreign oil refineries seized by Castro. They claimed they could find tankers to bring in the 60,000 barrels a day to fulfill the country's domestic needs.

But Castro's government apparently must act quickly to head off disaster. The prime minister told a TV audience June 24 that Cuba had a 66-day supply of gasoline and 34-day ration of fuel oil.

Oil Shortage Disastrous

Year-End Shortage

The Littlestown State Bank says they are presently "pretty well off" as far as pennies are concerned, but they have no surplus.

At Biglerville, the bank reports a small shortage of dimes while their penny demand also was not met this week by the federal mint.

It was reported the reason for the shortage in the mint is that all appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30 had been exhausted and the mint was coining foreign coins until Congress had appropriated money for the coming fiscal period.

Bankers urged that persons who are hoarding pennies get them into circulation as soon as possible to ease the burden.

MANY BANKS ARE CAUGHT IN 'PENNY PINCH'

A penny doesn't buy much nowadays but it is still very important to bankers and many of their patrons.

Adams County banks are experiencing a shortage of pennies due to the hoarding by individuals and the noncoinage by the federal mint in Philadelphia.

A spokesman for the Gettysburg National Bank said the bank requires $200 in pennies weekly for customers' needs. When the quota fell short last week, the bank was able to get only $50 in pennies from the mint while this week, none was available.

The First National Bank of Gettysburg is in the same situation, not being able to obtain its request from Philadelphia. They usually have about $400 on hand in pennies.

RICE PRAISES STATE IDEALS AT CEREMONY

"We must re dedicate ourselves to those ideals which brought this monument into being," Secretary of the Commonwealth John S. Rice said Friday evening at ceremonies rededicating the Pennsylvania Monument on the 50th anniversary of its construction.

Secretary Rice spoke under the arches of the monument after rain had driven the speakers and color guards from the steps of the monument to its interior where many of the spectators joined them for the remainder of the program. It was recalled that rain had interfered during the original dedication program in 1910.

Col. William G. Weaver, chairman of special events for the 97th battle anniversary program, presided at the program opening the series of events for the observance. The program was broadcast by WGCT.

Wreath Is Placed

Ernest Slaughter Jr., Harrisburg, state commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, placed the wreath at the monument as a gesture of re-dedication. Fred Kline, Mechanic, a member of the national executive committee of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, spoke "in praise of the thousands of men from Pennsylvania who suffered wounds in defense of our nation and our state, including approximately 5,000 wounded at Gettysburg during the battle here."

Associate Judge Clarence D. Deardorff, chaplain of the Ira Lady Post of the American Legion and the Adams County Firemen's Association, read the dedicatory prayer.

Members of the North-South Skirmish Association, led by Lawrence Crouse, fired the salute with 1,863 muskets and provided the sounding of taps.

About 30 of the Union and Confederate-garbed troopers who will take part in the re-enactment later Sunday afternoon will be at the Angle at 12 noon to permit press and the amateur cameramen to take close up views of the fighting, which will be staged by the small group for the photographers benefit.

Believe Amelia Earhart Was Executed By Japs

NEW YORK (AP) — New evidence has been reported that Amelia Earhart, the pioneer woman aviator who disappeared 23 years ago, may have been executed by the Japanese.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said Friday that she was seen to crash-land off Saipan during her ill-fated flight around the world.

CBS correspondent Don Mozeley said a special news team sent to the Pacific island "found at least a dozen natives who remember seeing the famous aviatrix crash land in the water in 1937, watched her taken to jail by the Japanese and then disappear."

Executed By Japs

"All the islanders," the report continued, "believe Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, were executed out of sight of the local population. The Japanese were determined that no American would ever tell the world they were fortifying the island of Saipan."

Park Ranger John Rogers estimated damage at $250, "the value of the car."

The local ambulance removed Smith to the Warren Hospital for treatment of his injuries.

Other County Accidents

The accident on the battlefield was one of a number in the Adams County area Friday.

At 7:15 o'clock Friday evening at Heidlersburg two cars collided causing $125 total damage. State police said Russell W. Umstead, 49, Jersey Shore, was traveling south when he saw a car ahead of him halted at the intersection in Heidlersburg preparatory to making a turn. Umstead braked and his car skidded into the north-bound lane colliding, according to police, with an auto driven by Herbert F. Klein, 22, Taneytown R. 1.

No injuries were reported but damage totaled $800 in an accident Friday evening a half mile west of New Oxford on the Lincoln Highway. State police said Richard Bollinger, 40, New Oxford R. 2, was traveling west and halted on the road preparatory to making a turn. Leroy Klinefelter Jr., 23, Gettysburg R. 5, also traveling east, in a truck, according to police could not stop his vehicle quickly enough and it crashed into the rear of Bollinger's sedan.

Man Fined $25 For Disorderly Conduct

A 23-year-old unemployed veteran was fined $25 Friday morning in Magistrate's Court, Frederick, for disorderly conduct June 20 in Emmitsburg.

On that day Donald Gross of Taneytown barged into the home of Emmitsburg Officer W. E. Law. Law, off duty, refused to see Gross, who had been drinking.

There was a quarrel and it ended with Gross in handcuffs, under arrest for being drunk on a public street and the charge for which he was fined Friday.

Gross told Magistrate Edward D. Storm Storm he went to Law to seek counsel about domestic problems.

Law accused the young man of being profane in the presence of a number of nearby children at play. He also said Gross threatened to "fix" him, prompting the officer to use some force in the apprehension.

The bartender of the Emmitsburg American Legion, Thomas Harbaugh, said Gross had been drinking a good bit that afternoon, although not at the Legion.

Gross allegedly told Harbaugh he wanted some "understanding" with Law.

The drunk charge was dismissed.

CONGRESS TO RECESS TODAY UNTIL AUG. 15

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — With a parting rebuff to President Eisenhower, Congress brushed a lot of major legislation under the rug today and packed up for the political conventions holiday.

Unless something goes wrong, it will adjourn at the end of today's session until August 15. The Senate wants to return on August 8, but was expected to bow to the House preference for the later date.

Regardless of what return date is agreed on, it looked like the postconvention session might drag along for a month or longer despite the present goal of final adjournment by Labor Day.

The major action on the eve of the recess was enactment of a bill raising the pay of 1½ million federal employees despite an Eisenhower veto. The increase will cost 746 million dollars a year.

By that act of defiance of the President, Congress got a little bit even. The President earlier in the year had vetoed bills to help depressed areas and to provide waste treatment grants to municipalities. Both of those vetoes stuck, as did 165 others imposed by the President since he took office in 1953.

Until the pay hike veto was overridden, only one other Eisenhower "no" was rejected by Congress. It provided funds last year for public works projects.

The Senate met for more than 13 hours Friday, clearing a flood of minor bills as well as compromise versions of many measures including big appropriations bills.

The appropriations bills passed the Senate in rapid order and were sent to the White House.

The largest provides $8,307,964, 900 to finance several federal agencies in the new fiscal year that started Friday. Other money bills approved were:

Reno, Nev., was founded in 1886.

RICE PRAISES

American Legion Post of Biglerville, the Fairfield Armvets and the Sons of Union Veterans of Gettysburg. G. Henry Roth gave a brief description of Pennsylvania's participation in the Battle of Gettysburg.

The talk by Secretary Rice follows:

"This is a monument to Pennsylvania's courage. It was built by Pennsylvanians to honor the courageous sons and fathers who fought to preserve a nation—and here a battle was won and the tide of war turned. Here sprang the roots and limbs of a strong nation. From the terror and tragedy of those Gettysburg hills came the peace these men hoped for, fought for and died for.

"The men whom we honor here were Pennsylvanians. They were our Pennsylvania forefathers; they believed in God and God's way of life—they believed that all men are brothers and should live in the love of that brotherhood. What happened here was war. But what this monument represents is peace. Fifty years have gone since this magnificent monument—the largest on this battlefield—was dedicated.

"Thirty-four thousand names of Pennsylvanians in that battle are engraved in bronze on the tablets of this monument. Fifty years ago 4,000 veterans gathered to remember those bloody days of conflict. None remain today. Men die in war after war—but the hopes of men continue—and never die.

"The hopes of the men at Gettysburg—the hopes of the 4,000—these hopes and dreams and aspirations are with us today. They are engraved, as are these names in bronze, in the hearts of all true Americans. Our hope and our dream is for peace and the brotherhood of men.

"Here Pennsylvanians stood fast to preserve a nation. George Gordon Meade commanded here. He was a Pennsylvanian. Reynolds and Hancock and Birney, all Pennsylvanians, here commanded corps of infantry. Gregg, a Pennsylvanian, commanded the corps of cavalry. Around the Pennsylvania brigades—around this courageous keystone of a union's army—the battle was thickest. Hoffman's Fifty-sixth Pennsylvania Regiment opened the infantry fire—and on each of the three days of the fighting, Pennsylvania's dead lay thickest. But the nation was saved! When Longstreet attempted to overwhelm his opposition, it was the Philadelphia Brigade, supported by other troops, who defeated him. This was a turning point in the war. One cannot speak for such few moments as this and recount Pennsylvania's full contribution at Gettysburg. Let us be reminded only that they saved a nation—and that never since have Americans fought one another. The deeds of these men have made this place immortal.

"The deeds of these men gave this nation its heritage of freedom and liberty. The courage of these men has preserved forever this nation's regard for all men, regardless of their color or creed. If God, in His infinite wisdom, permits mortal man to die in conflict and peace emerges from that conflict—those warriors are not then men of war, but are men of peace. These Pennsylvanians brought to this nation a peace which we have never lost. True, other men beyond our shores have involved this nation in other battles and wars. We were always ready, not to conquer, but to ensure peace—the peace for which these Gettysburg Pennsylvanians also fought, and the peace which they gave us.

"We must rededicate ourselves to those ideals which brought this monument into being. As we rededicate this physical building, let us rededicate all Americans to the faith, hope and love which grew from the horror of this battlefield. Let us remember that the Pennsylvanians who gave their lives here gave us our lives. Let us remember there is no greater sacrifice than that man lay down his life for another.

"One hundred years ago these men paid the price that future generations might live in peace. To these men we again dedicate

Comedy Hit Opens July 4 At Playhouse

Totem Pole players will set off some fireworks of their own for the week beginning July 4 at the Caledonia playhouse when they launch "Roman Candle," a romantic spoof on Pentagon politics and psychic power. Mary Tahmin, a hit in "Two for the Seesaw," Maurice Ottinger and Ann Rivers will head the cast. William H. Putsch will direct.

Ottinger's role is that of a scientist hijacked by the Army to perfect a new missile. Miss Tahmin acts as a chaos creator with a combination of psychic and feminine power which includes the ability to foresee the future not only of Ottinger but at the tracks as well much to the delight of Doug Robinson, playing a sergeant's role and hopeful of picking nothing but winners.

Other roles are Grant Code's general, round-shouldered from carrying his brass; Tom Crider's jealous Navy observer; Thomas Ruisinger's supercilious intelligence officer; Miss Rivers as the scientist's fiancée, an ambitious senator's daughter.

"Roman Candle" had excellent New York reviews for its deft satire and rollicking good humor.

Harriet Beecher Stowe's historic book "Uncle Tom's Cabin," first was published on June 5, 1851, by The National Era, a weekly newspaper in Washington, D.C.

this Pennsylvania monument — this monument to peace. Let us cherish their memory and rededicate ourselves that they will not have died in vain."

Fourth Of July

My country's birthday! In the morning sun
Old Glory ripples, beautiful to see,
Unstained by hatred, shame or tyranny!
Now ere the round of duties is begun,
From this day's minutes let me take but one;
And as a child unto its parent's knee,
Comes with its birthday offering happily.

So let me come, a loving, grateful son,
Oh, lovely country! May your years be long,
And may your joys of righteousness increase!
May God bestow on you His precious peace,
Grant you the gifts of laughter and of song;
And may you stand where'er your flag's unfurled,
A high example for a groping world.

Still on the brink of seizure is the 300-million-dollar Cuban Electric Co., the largest since American investment in Cuba.

BOMBER LOST, PLANES COMB NORWAY COAST

OSLO, Norway (AP)—An American reconnaissance bomber which disappeared on a mapping mission was last heard from directly north of the Soviet Kola Peninsula, a spokesman for the Norwegian air force said today.

The six-jet RB47 plane, carrying six crewmen, gave its last position as 73 degrees 30 minutes north and 35 east, the spokesman said. That would put it over the Barents Sea north-northeast of Norway's northernmost province of Finnmark — or north of the Kola Peninsula.

Earlier U. S. Air Force officials in West Germany said they believed the plane was down. Asked whether it might have strayed behind the Iron Curtain, a spokesman said "I don't think so."

The missing bomber took off Friday from a British base to map electromagnetic fields north of Norway.

Search planes began arriving today at Bodø air base in northern Norway to comb the bleak waters off Norway's wild coast for the plane.

The Air Force said all the officers were married and their home base is Topeka, Kan. The men were based temporarily in England.

LETTER WARNS CHERRY GROUP

Thomas E. Piper, extension marketing agent, has advised cherry growers in Adams County by letter that payment for their cherries will be determined by the quality and when the cherries grade less than 100 per cent, they will be losing money.

Piper told of three things that influence quality: every stem, every pulled seed and every sunscald will turn a No. 1 cherry into a cull.

He added that in order to maintain on-the-tree quality, the grower should instruct and supervise the pickers, keep buckets and crates in the shade—both empty and filled, pick before the cherries get too hot since hot cherries are more susceptible to scald, pick cherries when the stems start to turn brown, and make deliveries to the canner at least twice per day. He concluded that "fine cherries are like new ideas, they must be handled with tender care."

WE MUST BUILD

I am always fascinated at the sight of the most recent skyscraper under construction in my City of New York. I love to watch the great supports of steel find their way to bed rock! I envy the builder. His must be a life of constant inspiration.But we may all be builders in our own way. Unless we are, we must fall out of the contest and be forgotten. We must build!In nature—which is so much the expression of the thought of the greatest Builder—there is no inactivity. Building is but another name for growth.We must each of us grow—or die. It is the law of life. But let us build for a long time. Let us loan our personality to the ages!
It isn't necessary to upset a world in order to impress your worth through unborn time.It's the thing you do, the spirit in which you do it, and the great
Why, that carves folks memory into stones. We must build—if we would be remembered. And a sound foundation that counts for far more than all the fancy cloptrap and ornamentation sometimes seem to think is so important, but which in reality detracts and deceives.We must be builders worthy of the material given us!

Who has a troop of romping youth
About his parlor floor,
Who nightly hears a round of cheersWhen he is at the door,
Who is attacked on every side
By eager little handsThat reach to tug his grizzled mug,
The wealth of earth commands.Oh, be he poor and sore distressed,
And weary with the fight,
If with a whoop his healthy troop
Run, welcoming at night,And kisses greet him at the end

Cards Wallop Braves In Double-Header; Bucs Win; Orioles Defeat White Sox

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves, after winning six straight and closing within 2½ games of the National League lead, suddenly have lost six of their last nine — reserving a first-place berth for Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July for the first time in 28 years.

While the Braves twice rallied and lost in a doubleheader at St. Louis, the Pirates defeated Los Angeles 4-3 in 10 innings for a 4½-game lead. That's the biggest bulge yet in the NL race and assures the Bucs of no less than a half-game margin when they finish Monday's holiday twinbill at Milwaukee.

The Braves were beaten 8-7 in 10 innings in the first game, after overhauling a 7-0 Cardinal lead, and lost the second game 7-5, after trailing 5-0.

Orioles Beat Sox
In the only American League game played, second-place Baltimore beat the Chicago White Sox 4-0 behind right-hander Milt Pappas, who hit a two-run homer and yielded six hits. That pushed the Birds within one game of the front-running New York Yankees, who were idled by rain with the rest of the AL.

Cincinnati clipped Chicago's Cubs 5-3 in 12 innings in the other NL game. San Francisco and Philadelphia were rained out.

Right-hander Ernie Broglio (8-4) won both games in relief for the Cards, now back at 500 in fourth place. They took the opener when rookie Julie Javier doubled off loser Joey Jay (2-3) and scored on rookie Johnny Glynn's two-out single against Lew Burdette.

The Braves were blanked on two hits by Larry Jackson until the seventh, when they scored four unearned runs after Javier's two-out error. Milwaukee tied it with three in the ninth, again with two out, off reliever Lindy McDaniel.

A two-run, two-out double by Joe Cunningham beat reliever Ron Piche (1-4) in the nightcap eight minutes before the NL curfew would have made it a suspended game. Broglio, following Curt Simmons and McDaniel in this one, walked in the tying run in a five-run Milwaukee eighth featured by Hank Aaron's two-out homer, his 19th.

In First In 1932
Dick Stuart, the three home run hero of Thursday night's Pirate victory over San Francisco, capped a comeback, two-run 10th against the Dodgers with a two-out single that scored Roberto Clemente from first base.

The Pirates last were in first place on the Fourth of July in 1932—when they finished second to the Cubs.

Roy McMillan's sacrifice fly broke a 3-3 tie in a two-run 12th for the Reds and gave reliever Bob Grim (1-1) his first NL victory.

Pappas' homer, his first hit of the year, beat Billy Pierce (6-4) in the fifth inning.

WILL NOT BEAT HOMER RECORD

NEW YORK (AP)—The newest "new" Babe Ruth would just as soon stick to his old handle, if you don't mind.

"No one is going to beat the Babe's record," said New York Yankee outfielder Roger Maris today. "Certainly, I won't. Furthermore, hitting home runs does not interest me that much."

Right now, the 25-year-old refugee from the Kansas City A's has 25 homers to his credit. That puts him four up on Ruth's 1927 pace when the Babe hit his record 60.

"I'm not looking for any records," continued Maris. "I'm just hoping to have a good season and help the Yanks win. I know much better than to start setting any fantastic goals for myself."

A whole host of great long-distance hitters have preceded Maris as the "new" Ruth in other years but the record still stands. Jimmie Foxx and Hank Greenberg came closest, each with 58.

HOLDS STROKE LEAD AT FLINT

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A 23-year-old youngster who hasn't won in a dozen professional tournaments held a slim one-stroke lead today as the 52,000 Flint Open Golf Tournament moved into its second round.

Davey Hill, a Jackson, Mich., native who now plays out of Denver, Colo., shot a four-under-par 68 in first round competition Friday to grab the lead.

Hill, who just a year ago was an assistant pro at the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Elks Country Club, stunned the star-studded field with his golfing prowess.

With a 36-32—68, he led such notables as Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and Tommy Bolt of Crystal River, Fla. Littler finished second at the end of the first round with 34-35—69.

Bolt was in a four-way tie for third at 70 with Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La.

Hill, whose only victory in two years as a pro was in the 1959 Michigan Open, has been an erratic performer on the pro circuit and this is the first time he has been in the lead. His best finish was a seventh place tie in the Hot Springs Open three months ago.

DEMPSEY SAYS BOXING IS IN 'A SORRY MESS'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson will never meet again, predicts former boxing great Jack Dempsey.

"Why should they?" queried Dempsey, who reigned as heavyweight champion of the world from 1919 to 1926. "Sure they have a contract for it, but it's time somebody else had a crack at the title."

When asked if he had any ideas as to whom Patterson should fight next, Dempsey answered: "They tell me Sonny Liston could lick both Patterson and Johansson. I don't know, I've never seen Sonny Liston fight. But, maybe he ought to get the chance."

Dempsey, who was in Pittsburgh Friday to boost sales of his biography, then launched an attack on boxing in general.

"I never had any return bout contracts," he said. "All they do is tie up championships and enable managers and promoters to maintain a monopoly while they shut out worthy contenders and eliminate competitive bidding for matches."

He added that boxing needs "men who know something about the business instead of uniformed politicians."

"The boxing situation is a sorry mess," he continued. "But he mess is more the making of interests on the outside than on the inside. The manner in which the Johansson fight was mishandled was a disgrace."

3-PA. ATHLETES QUALIFY FOR OLYMPIC TEAM

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Three Pennsylvanians qualified Friday night for spots on the United States Olympic track and field team with a record shattering performance by Al Cantello of Norristown a feature of the meet.

Cantello, world record holder in the javelin, had a toss of 277 feet 7 inches, almost 33 feet better than the previous Olympic trials record, but still several feet short of his world mark.

Bo Roberson, a Philadelphian competing for the U. S. Army finished third in the broad jump, with a leap of 25 feet 5½ inches. The top three finishers in each event make the Olympic team.

Frank Budd, a Villanova competing for the Philadelphia Pioneer Club was second to Ray Norton in the 100 meter dash, getting the same clocking of 10.4 seconds.

Failed in Rome Bid
Josh Cobb, a Norristown, also competing for the Pioneers, was fifth in the 400 meter hurdles, this failing in a bid for a trip to Rome.

Several more boys from the Keystone State will get shots at Olympic berths today. Ed Moran, former Penn State ace from Kane, will be in the 1500 meter run. Penn State Steve Moorhead will be in the steeplechase.

Ed Collymore, former Villanova running for the U. S. Marines, will be in the 200 meter dash, as will Paul Drayton, now of Villanova.

Ira Davis and Bill Sharpe, two Philadelphia area entries, will be in the hop, step and jump competition.

Another former Villanova, Don Bragg, will be in the pole vault.

RISKY RUNNING WINS FOR BUCS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Danny Murtaugh's come-from-behind Pittsburgh Pirates found another way to win a ball game Friday night. They did it with rare and risky base running in the 10th winning.

The south-of-the-border speedsters, rookie Joe Christopher from the Virgin Islands and Roberto Clemente from Puerto Rico, ran the Pirates to their 4-3 victory over Los Angeles.

Christopher, who had doubled, scored from second on Clemente's deep infield single, and then Roberto came all the way home from first on Dick Stuart's fly ball single. The Dodgers had gone ahead 3-2 in the 10th on Charlie Nease's homer.

"We took a couple of chances and won," said third base Coach Frank Ocek, who had the bambling job of waiving both runners in.

Shenandoah Meet Starts Tuesday

THOMAS SETS NEW MARK IN HIGH JUMP

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—U.S. stars continued their assault on records today in the final events of the Olympic trials after John Thomas again bettered the world high jump mark with a jump of 7 feet 3¾ inches.

The leap by the 19-year-old Boston University sophomore topped Friday's performances bettering Olympic trials records in six of nine events and another one tied.

"We'll have a lot better team than before," declared Chairman Pincus Sober of the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Committee. "But we'll have a lot harder time winning gold medals."

Bill Nieder Fails

There was heartbreak for many. Bill Nieder, the Kansas who put the shot a record 65 feet 7 inches failed to qualify as he finished fourth to Dallas Long, Parry O'Brien and Dave Davis among the "Big Four" of the sport.

Greg Bell, the 1956 Olympic champion, failed to rank among the first three in the broad jump and didn't make the team. Neither did Eddie Southern, the second-place winner in the 400-meter hurdles four years ago at Melbourne.

NCAA sprint champion Charlie Tidwell of Kansas pulled up lame in the 100-meter dash.

Other Record Breakers

Meet record breakers, in addition to Thomas, were Al Hall of the New York Athletic Club with a 214-foot 7-inch hammer throw; Long with 63-3¾ in the shot; Ralph Boston of Tennessee A&M with 26-6½ in the broad jump; Jim Beatty with 14-13.6 in the 5,000-meter run and Al Cantello with a 277 foot 7-inch javelin throw.

Glenn Davis, the ex-Ohio State star who won the 400-meter hurdles gold medal at Melbourne, tied his meet record here with a time of 49.5 seconds.

Hall set the previous hammer throw trials record in 1956 with 197-7½ and went on to finish second to teammate Harold Connolly in the Olympics. Connolly, suffering from a pulled muscle in his back, was second Friday with 212-3½.

Beats O'Brien's Throw

Long's throw surpassed the 60-10 record of O'Brien four years ago. O'Brien, winner of two Olympic gold medals in the shot, qualified with 62-3¾ while Davis had 62-3½. Nieder, who fouled on a 63-foot throw, had a best legal heave of 61-9¼.

Boston's broad jump erased a record of 26-2 set by Willie Steele in 1948 while Beatty erased the 5,000-meter mark of 14:26 by Bill Dellinger. Cantello's javelin throw far surpassed the 244-11 by Cy Young four years ago.

Ray Norton won the 100 in 10.4 seconds. Events scheduled this afternoon in Stanford Stadium were the 800-meter finals, pole vault, 110-meter high hurdles, hop-step-and-jump, discus, 400 meters, 3,000 meter steeplechase and 1,500 meters.

FRASER WINS TENNIS TITLE AT WIMBLEDON

By RONALD THOMSON
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Neale Fraser, Wimbledon's newest king of the courts, sent out transatlantic warning signals today that Australia means to retain its stranglehold on the American tennis crown.

On the final day of a triumphant Wimbledon for the boys Down Under — and a disastrous one for the United States — Fraser was a strong favorite to retain the U. S. title at Forest Hills N. Y., Sept. 2-11.

The 26-year-old son of a Melbourne physician drove and volleyed his way on to the glory roll of these 74th championships after a dashing duel with fellow Aussie Rod Laver — another danger man for the U. S. crown.

Fraser stamped his victory once and for all as the world's top amateur — while the red-haired Laver,

Over-cultivation Can Harm Tomato Plant Root System

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Cultivation will do a lot for tomatoes, but you can make it too much of a good thing if you're not careful. Cultivate tomatoes only to kill the weeds, and loosen the soil if it tends to pack or crust. Pull the soil toward the tomato plants to smother out weeds in the row, and to add more surface soil near the plants so their surface roots may develop undisturbed.

FRANK S. ZETTLE

There is a balance between the roots of a plant underground and the parts above ground. A small plant above ground will have a small root system. Early in the season, cultivation can be fairly close to the plants, an inch or two deep because roots haven't yet spread out.

As the tomatoes continue to grow, the roots develop, so cultivation must be more shallow, just to destroy weeds. If the root system is injured by too-deep cultivation the part above ground will suffer in proportion to the amount of root damage underground.

Sawdust Garden Mulching
Sawdust makes a cheap garden mulch. Sawdust is a plant residue, and thus maintains organic matter and humus.

Where sawdust is applied to the soil and a crop planted immediately, there may be poor response because of depletion of soil nitrogen.

When undecomposed sawdust is mixed with the soil under favorable conditions of temperature and moisture, it immediately starts to decompose just as do other plant materials. This breakdown is brought about by many species of soil bacteria and fungi. These micro-organisms require nitrogen, which the sawdust supplies only in traces. So, if extra nitrogen isn't supplied along with the sawdust, it will rob the soil of nitrogen that should go to the plants, and the plants will suffer. But if extra nitrogen is supplied with the sawdust, it makes an excellent mulch and supplier of organic matter and humus.

Get Hay Samples
Farmers planning to use the Penn State Forage Testing Service this year can sample their hay at time of storage rather than wait until next fall. Nutrient losses in storage for properly cured hay are very small, and submitting samples for analysis now will reduce the load on the forage testing lab next fall.

Various types of hays can be separated as follows: legume or mixed mainly grass, birdsfoot trefoil, and annual hays. Within each type, first cutting hays should be sampled separately from later cuttings. When harvesting of first-cutting forage extends over a considerable period the harvest for each weekly period might be sampled separately.

Weathered hays may be sampled separately or included proportionately in the composite hay sample when both weathered and nonweathered hays are to be fed simultaneously.

If it isn't practical to take forage samples at time of storage, set aside at least 12 bales at random from each type of hay for sampling later this summer. Various lots of bales should be properly identified and stored in a dry area until sampling is completed.

To simplify feeding of lots next fall, store hay lots perpendicularly in the mow. Make a sketch of locations of each lot in mow, or place identification tags on the ends of border bales.

All types of silage must be sampled at the time of feeding. Uncertain losses during storage makes earlier sampling impractical.

The use of forage testing as a guide to grain feeding increased returns as much as $50 to $75 per cow for many Pennsylvania dairy farmers last year.

52ND STREET IS LOSING ITS NIGHT CLUBS

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—The wrecking ball long ago knocked the swing out of 52nd Street. Today the State Liquor Authority is bent on knocking the zing out of it as well.

The SLA earlier this week closed seven of 52nd Street's remaining night clubs, labelling them nothing but clip and strip joints. The license-lifting could mark the end of a New York era.

Fifty-second Street originally was a block of residential brownstones between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, converted during prohibition into speakeasies.

"We made our own entertainment in those days," recalls entertainer Pat Harrington.

Called "Swing Street" it was with the end of prohibition in 1933 that professional entertainment became the chief commodity of the block and 52nd street became Manhattan's "Swing street."

Long since vanished before encroaching construction is the Famous Door, where Louis Prima and his band held sway. Gone, too, is the great old Club 18, on the downtown side of the block. There Harrington and Jack White ran through hilarious comedy routines, abetted from time to time by a young zany whose name was Jackie Gleason.

Across the street, there's a parking lot where Leon and Eddie's once stood. Eddie Davis used to direct the entertainment and a husky bouncer named Toots Shor kept an eye on things. Shor, incidentally, hopes to build his new restaurant on the site.

Street Was Crowded
Milt Gabler, now with Decca records, ran a record shop on the old 52nd Street. He dates the invasion of strip teasers to about 1940 and thinks the closing of burlesque in 1942 hastened the evolution.

At any rate, after World War

REBEL DRIVERS BACK AT WORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Rebel bus strikers went back to work Friday, ending a tieup that had disrupted transportation for a half million New Yorkers daily for four days.

The wildcat strike collapsed as suddenly as it had begun last Monday night. Drivers flocked into garages, took over their vehicles and roared out into the street to return to their routes.

Union leaders from the start had opposed the stoppage, aimed at the omnibus division of the city's largest private bus line, the Fifth Avenue Coach Lines, Inc. It halted service on 21 routes, all but one in Manhattan.

The rank-and-file uprising had come over a plan to convert two north-south avenues to one-way traffic July 17, forcing transfers of some drivers.

In voting to return to work, the drivers still registered their opposition to the projected new schedules, but for the time being agreed to resume work on the old ones.

The end of the strike came after many drivers, acting independently, already had returned to work this morning.

II, 52nd Street became pretty much of a pattern—one strip joint flanking another on both sides of the street. Most of them were closed out by the wrecking of the old buildings.

Rapidly vanishing from the street are its most colorful characters—the night club doormen. Raucous, persistent, in fair weather or foul, they competed nightly for customers, exhorting them:

"Come on in, the show's just starting. See it from the bar for the price of a single drink. Hottest show in town."

It seemed, sometimes, like the show was always just starting in the old days along 52nd Street. But now it may be ending.

TV-Eye Weather Satellite Stops Sending Pictures As Camera Relay Breaks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tiro I, the TV-eye weather satellite, has stopped sending back pictures of the earth's cloud cover.

Scientists believe that one of the two electrically operated cameras—the one with the wide-angle lens—has burned out.

"This damage seems to have affected the entire satellite system," the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in a statement Friday.

With the failure of the wide-angle camera system, all the radio telemetry—the equipment to send back pictures and other data—also ceased to function.

Other Camera Working
The narrow-angle camera system appears still to have "some limited operational capability," NASA said.

The satellite itself, which has sent back almost 23,000 cloud and earth pictures since it was launched April 1, is in a stable orbit about 450 miles above the earth. It is expected to remain aloft for many years.

The radio beacon by which it is tracked from the ground is still transmitting.

End Interrogation
NASA said its scientists decided, after Tiro I passed over the Ft. Monmouth, N.J., receiving station at midnight Wednesday to discontinue interrogating the satellite.

This meant that the 270-pound drum-shaped space voyager "has reached the end of its operating lifetime," the agency said.

NASA said its scientists believe that an inoperable relay in the wide-angle camera system was the cause of the satellite's difficulty.

Drained Batteries
"This malfunction made it impossible for the camera to turn off," the agency said.

"This apparently drained the batteries and eventually caused the wide-angle camera transmitter to burn out."

Circling the globe every 99 minutes, Tiro I has sent back a steady flow of pictures, many of them remarkably clear and all of them the first to examine the earth from such a distance.

Its twin television cameras inspected that part of the earth between 50 degrees north latitude and 50 degrees south latitude—an area extending from Montreal, Canada, to Santa Cruz, Argentina in the Western Hemisphere and embracing large parts of Mongolia, Manchuria and eastern Russia north of Vladivostok. They surveyed much of Europe.

Annual Fairfield Fire Company Carnival Will Be Held From July 4-9

Dinners, Midway And Music Feature 35th Annual Fete Held For Community Benefit

The Fairfield Fire Company will stick to a tried and true formula as it gets its 35th annual carnival under way on July Fourth at the carnival grounds: A variety of entertainment and the traditional fine food.

Entertainment lidlifters this year will be the Littlestown High School Band which will play Monday evening. Following recorded music on Tuesday, "The Savoy," a teen-age group, will provide the music for a "lawn hop" on Wednesday. Bobby Lee Metzger and the Country Rhythm Boys will highlight Thursday's entertainment and on Friday there will be country and western music by the Martin Brothers.

The Fairfield High School Band will present concerts on Saturday, the closing day of the carnival.

Carnival Kitchen

The carnival kitchen will provide ham and beef dinners opening day from 4 to 8 o'clock with soups and sandwiches on sale throughout the evening. Sandwiches and refreshments will also be on sale Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and on Friday crab cakes will be the specialty. Barbecued chicken will headline Saturday's menu with dinners served from 4 to 8 p.m.

The following groups will handle kitchen arrangements throughout the carnival: Monday, United Church of Christ; Tuesday, Presbyterian and Mennonite groups; Wednesday, Brethren in Christ at Iron Springs; Thursday, St.

Mary's Catholic Church; Friday, Lutheran Church and the Amvets Auxiliary; Saturday, the Fairfield Fire Company Auxiliary and the women of the community.

The carnival, sponsored by the fire company, has been an annual event since 1926 when the first program was held in connection with the meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association in Fairfield. It was known then as "Fairfield's Old Home Week and Firemen's Carnival." Entertainment for the first event 35 years ago was provided by local thespians who presented several plays and pageants in a large tent.

Chicken Is Specialty

The menu specialty back in 1926 was also chicken, but chicken and waffles rather than the barbecued variety that will be served this year.

One of the chief attractions of the carnival is always the midway, complete with games, rides and concessions offering French fries, candy, popcorn and other delicacies.

Members of the Fairfield Fire Company have been hard at work for weeks in preparation for the annual event. Today all members of the group reported to the grounds to get things in order for July Fourth's gala opening.

Committees Listed

Co-chairmen Paul Myers and Calvin Riley have kept the membership busy with the following assignments: Games, Robert Fite, Raymond Miller, Walter Warren, Joseph Lowe, Kenneth Stoner, James Sager, Charles Lowe, Donald Weikert, Kenneth Dear-dorff and Russell Hartman. Rides, Glenn Kepner, Luther Kepner and Sherman Sites. Concessions, Kermit Spence, Robert Carbaugh, Kenneth Ickes, Harper Hiner, Paul Cluck and Edward Snyder.

Hot dog stand, Thomas Newman and William Newman. Games, Doyle Rebert, Chester Cornwell and Warren Donnelly. Entertainment, George Inskip, Kenneth Hartzell and Edward Hartzell. Parking, fire police. Tickets, Edward Glenn and Frank Weikert.

Grounds, Stuart Sites Jr. Lighting, Russell Summers. Publicity, Clarence and Catherine Wilson. Kitchen, fire company auxiliary, George Steinberger and Kenneth Sites. Chicken barbecue, William Schultz. Treasurer, Glenn Shriner.

ZION LUTHERAN HAD FOUNDING CELEBRATIONS

The past year has been a notable one for Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield, and Rev. Otto Kroeger, its pastor. On November 15 the congregation began a three-Sunday celebration marking 105 years of Lutheranism in Fairfield and in early January participated in the Fairfield Community Week of Prayer.

Prior to 1854 Lutherans in the Fairfield community were associated with the Lutheran Church at Emmitsburg and Fountaineau. Travel in those horse and buggy days was slow and some had quite a distance to go. In 1854 it was decided to build a church in Fairfield. The cornerstone was laid September 10, 1854, with appropriate exercises with Dr. S. S. Schmucker, president of the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg, assisting, according to Miss Mary B. Weikert and Frank Moore in their history of Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield.

With the new Lutheran Church conveniently located in Fairfield, attendance grew and the little church called its first minister and became associated with the Emmitsburg church and the Fountaineau church as a three-church charge. Many trials marked the growth of the new church but it enjoyed a steady growth until in November, 1888, it separated itself from the charge and became a single church, calling for the first time its own full-time pastor.

Built Parsonage In '24

The present parsonage was built in 1924. The church was enlarged and renovated completely in 1891. This renovation more than doubled its size. In 1913 a Sunday School wing was added. Finally in 1949, the latest wing was added to the building. It houses a kitchen and general assembly room. The pipe organ was rebuilt in 1957 and a number of important building improvements were made at that time.

In July, 1863, the church became a hospital for the wounded following a battle near Fairfield. Strong boards were placed across the backs of the pews and covered with blankets. Both Federal and Confederate soldiers received the same care. Two Army surgeons, one from the North and one from the South, remained to care for the wounded. A historical marker was placed there in 1942.

Highlight of the three-Sunday observance was a historical display in the parish hall. Featured was Sunday School materials and attendance as far back as 1883. There were pictures of church life, church members and incidents of interest. Oil lamps, rare glass globes, a spire from the church before it was enlarged in 1891, an early pewter communion set and an ornate tin lantern from the earliest days of the church were displayed. A set of posters presented an appeal for the Zion endowment fund. Automobiles of various periods in American history were displayed through the courtesy of local and nearby "Antique Auto Clubs."

Former Pastor

The guest speaker at the opening service was the Rev. Dr. Norman S. Wolf, former pastor of the church. Dr. Wolf was pastor from 1945 to 1953. Under his leadership the church added a new educational wing and church kitchen.

Another feature of the celebration was "Old Timer's Night" which included the appearance of former pastors and the special recognition of all persons who were members of Zion for at least 50 years. The returning former pastors included Rev. N. S. Wolf, Rev. Charles Coffelt, Rev. John C. McCune and Rev. E. G. Colestock. Letters were also read from other former pastors of the church.

FIREMEN NEED CARNIVAL TAKE FOR OPERATION

For the past 35 years, officers of the Fairfield Fire Co. have attempted to raise operating and maintenance funds through the annual carnival and solicitation drive traditionally held over the Fourth of July holiday period.

While the firemen direct and labor to insure the success of the activity, almost the whole of the Fairfield community has a finger in the affair as the carnival runs its course. The women of various church and community groups, for example, take care of food sales during the drive. Other civic-minded individuals help the firemen man the various concessions that are operated during the enterprise.

Through the funds realized after a week's hard work and a much lengthier planning period, the firemen maintain their equipment making additions whenever possible, as was the case recently with the new siren system.

Heading the Fairfield Fire Co. this year are the following officers: Francis Schultz, president; Chester Cornwell, first vice president; Raymond Myers, second vice president; Ira McGlaughlin, secretary; Clarence Wilson, financial secretary; Glenn Shriner, treasurer.

Harper Hiner is the fire chief with Kenneth Sites his first assistant and Walter Warren, second assistant. Directors are Paul Myers, immediate past president; Kenneth Stoner and Junior Scott.

AMVETS GROW IN FAIRFIELD

The Charles J. Gillan Post 172 of the Amvets at Fairfield, bursting with phenomenal growth that has pushed membership to near 500 figure counting regular and social members, has been hustling with activity also.

In addition to directing operations for a new post home east of Fairfield along the Gettysburg Rd., the veterans' organization has also set up a blood donation plan by arrangement with the Warner Hospital and technicians have already typed the blood of many members who have volunteered to serve as donors when the occasion arises.

The post has also sent a donation to the USS Arizona Memorial to be constructed at Pearl Harbor where a memorial carillon was dedicated on May 30. This project is a national Amvets activity.

Honor Guard

The post honor guard under the direction of Frank Lowe and with Chester Shriver as commander has been busy with participation in neighboring events. The team now has upwards of 30 members. Officers are: Frank Lowe, president; Calvin Riley, vice president; Joseph Seybold, secretary; Roy K. Baker, treasurer; Chester Shriver, commander; Vaughn Dagenhart and Leroy Baker, assistants, and Carson Lowe, bugler.

The group will send 11 delegates to the state Amvets convention in Greensburg, July 8-10. Leroy Fleming is post commander.

LIONS CLUB IS PLEDGED TO ALL TOWN PROJECTS

The newly elected officers of the Fairfield Lions Club have an enviable record on which they must draw a bead. One of the most active groups in the community, the Lions recently drew a special commendation from the International when they were presented an "activities excellence" plaque by District Governor Paul Corcellous, Huntington, for projects completed during the year.

Now the new officers — Rev. Otto Kroeger, president; Allen Weikert, 1st vice president; A. B. Ross, 2nd vice president; Guy Donaldson, 3rd vice president; Doyle Rebert, treasurer; Olmer Spence, Lion tamer; Frank Schultz and Donald Bucher, tail twisters, and Stuart Sites Jr. and B. E. Benner, directors — have their work cut out for them.

Among the projects which won the Fairfield Lions the activity plaque in a point contest in Region 4, District 14-C were the following: sponsorship of the area Pony League; sponsorship of swimming (Continued On Page 8)

2,000 Guests Eat And Drink At Lavish Party As Cow Eats On Lawn, 4 Bands Play And Prankster Pulls Light Switch

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
GUILDFORD, England (AP) — Some 2,000 guests guzzled champagne and danced until dawn Friday at a party pitched by J. Paul Getty, American oil magnate and perhaps the world's richest man. But the caviar, lobster and duck ran out and late comers wound up eating hot dogs.

The shindig was a dual purpose affair: to warm Getty's new house in Britain, 16th century Sutton Place mansion, and to bring out the 18-year-old debutante daughter of his friend Capt. Ian Constable-Maxwell.

The hosts shared expenses. The party cost more than $30,000. While it was going on—from 10 p. m. to 4 a. m. — an aide estimated Getty's oil interests alone netted him about $57,000 profit.

Cow Chomps On Lawn
On the lawn outside a confused cow chomped on the expensive turf long past her usual bedtime. She had been planted there to boost a milk industry campaign to persuade Britons to drink more milk.

At 3 a. m. some prankster threw the main electric switch and plunged the soiree into utter darkness.

Someone asked Getty what happened.

"Don't ask me," snapped the oil magnate. "I'm no electrical expert."

When one of his minions explained what happened, he ordered, "Well, don't let it happen again."

Push Photographer Into Pool
A newspaper photographer was pushed into the illuminated swimming pool. He climbed out dripping and full of fight. A debutante hit him over the head with her spike-heeled shoe and her husky male escort heaved the photographer back into the water.

Told that someone had been dunked in the pool, Getty permitted himself a wintry smile and said he hadn't expected anyone to go swimming.

"The pool's not all that warm," he said.

Then the magnate went back to dancing with Parisian model Madeline Hegeler, to the strains of a West Indian steel drum and calypso band.

Life-saving Feat Earns Jockey Award Nomination

BOSTON (AP) — A remarkable life-saving feat on horseback today earned jockey Henry Wajda of Newmarket, N. H., a nomination for the highest honor awarded a thoroughbred rider.

Wajda's spectacular effort in saving Tony Desprito from possible death Thursday at Suffolk Downs brought a nomination for the George Woolf Memorial Trophy for valor, according to New England Jockey Guild representative Martin O'Neill.

"There's no doubt about it. Wajda saved my life," said the 25-year-old Desprito who has had eight bad spills and twice before has been near death in his 10-year career. He was the nation's leading jockey in 1952.

Crowding On Turn
Wajda's heroics were performed in the five-furlong, third race when crowding on the far turn knocked Desprito from the saddle, his left foot entangled in the stirrup iron. Tony clung precariously to the right side of the neck of his mount, Color Bearer.

Had he fallen he could have been trampled by horses pressing from behind or dragged by his mount running at about 35 miles an hour.

Pictures depict Wajda pulling alongside Desprito and doing a masterful job guiding his horse with his right hand and reaching for Tony with his left.

The horses ran about 50 yards before Wajda lifted Desprito safely back on top of his mount. Both Desprito's feet were out of the iron and he coasted home, ninth in a 10-horse field. Wajda finished eighth aboard Lucky Andy in a race won by favored Praise Us.

JOHNSON ASKS IKE TO SPEND DEFENSE FUND

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) urged President Eisenhower and top defense officials to spend the extra money that Congress added to their military budget for the fiscal year that began Friday.

"I certainly hope that the executive branch will not let some budget clerks willfully disregard the expressed intent of Congress," the Johnson leader said.

The administration has declined in several past years to permit spending of appropriations added by Congress.

Huge Increase
The defense money bill providing $39,996,608,000 — about $661,608,000 more than Eisenhower asked — whisked through the Senate Thursday night by an 82-3 margin after earlier House approval. It now goes to the President.

Johnson, in a statement inserted in the Congressional Record, said "a truly amazing record" he obtained indicated that Pentagon heads might ignore the wishes of Congress.

The Senate leader quoted parts of the document, which he said was written June 9 by O. M. Gale, former special assistant to the secretary of defense who since has joined the staff of the Republican National Committee.

Johnson quoted one paragraph as stating that if Congress voted extra funds "where the law does not require expenditures, agencies should reserve the increases and carry them forward to the maximum practical extent to fiscal year 1962."

INDEPENDENCE IS CELEBRATED BY SOMALIA

MOGADISCIO, Somalia (AP) — Impoverished Somalia Friday celebrated with a million-dollar party on becoming the 15th African nation to gain independence since World War II.

Tribesmen danced and sang in the streets of this dusty old port city in a splurge that cost the equivalent of the territory's annual trade deficit.

Italians, who for 91 years have administered the coastal strip extending from the bulge of East Africa to the Kenya border, joined in saluting the new nation.

Rome's representatives signed agreements with the new government promising economic, technical and cultural aid.

Merge Into Republic
Italian Somaliland and neighboring British Somaliland on the north, which became independent Sunday, immediately merged into a republic in the first step toward a goal of uniting all 2½ million Somali tribesmen in East Africa.

About 1,800,000 live in the new republic. But Somali leaders hope eventually to embrace the others who live in neighboring Ethiopia, French Somaliland and Kenya.

Grave economic problems face the new republic. The native leaders, once the celebrations are over, must seek a foreign source for funds to balance the budget.

68 Nations Represented
Italy, administering Italian Somaliland as a United Nations trust territory since 1950, has met the deficit for that part of the new republic. The British have done the same in their protectorate, which they have governed since 1887.

Sixty-eight countries sent delegations to Mogadiscio for the independence celebrations. Both the Western and Communist blocs saluted the birth of Africa's second new nation within 24 hours. The former Belgian Congo gained its independence Thursday.

MUMMASBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and Mrs. Nellie Leathman were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lemmon, near York Springs.

Miss Vickie Martin, Mrs. Clyde Wilson, Mrs. Bruce Wilson and her son, Gary, accompanied the Women's Auxiliary of the Farm Bureau by bus to the Pocono Mountains last Saturday.

Ronald Harmon accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyer and family to New Windsor, Md., last Sunday where their son, Larry, expects to spend sometime.

Rebecca Wineman spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and family.

COURT RULING CITES NEED OF LEGISLATION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Justice Michael Musmanno says the Legislature should do something about a woman has no cause to sue in Pennsylvania for the loss of her husband's companionship through negligence of a third person.

The high court also said Thursday that a husband's right on the same theory "is without present day justification." A husband previously could recover for the loss of his wife's companionship in the event of her serious injury or death.

Musmanno, in one of his strongest dissenting opinions, called the majority decision unfair, illogical, a blow to the ideal of family life and "wholly insupportable."

Opinion By Eagen
Written by Justice Michael Eagen, the opinion was handed down on an appeal from the Philadelphia Common Pleas Court by Mrs. Toby Neuberger against Josef Bobowicz and Morris Fliegelman.

Mrs. Neuberger and her husband, Israel, sued because of injuries and financial losses suffered by the husband in an auto accident allegedly caused by the defendants' negligence. Due to the violence of the accident, it was alleged, Neuberger developed a cardiac neurosis and a heart condition.

Mrs. Neuberger said that as the result of her husband's disabilities she had lost his "society, services, and sexual companionship." She asked damages on her own behalf.

"Sacred Right Of Motherhood"
Ruling on a defense objection to that claim, the Philadelphia Common Pleas Court struck down Mrs. Neuberger's complaint.

Eagen said the court believes suits for loss of full marital partnership are anachronistic, that is, they do not belong in the present stream of history but are strictly of the past.

Musmanno said the evidence showed "that the disabilities suffered by the husband will deprive the wife of the undoubtedly the most precious wealth a wife could possess, the sacred right of motherhood."

Reinstate Teachers
In other action Thursday, the court ordered the reinstatement of four Philadelphia teachers who had been fired for refusal to testify at congressional investigations into Communism. The court said in effect that mere refusal to testify did not prove that the teachers were incompetent to carry out their teaching duties under the school code.

Chief Justice Charles Alvin Jones said their dismissal by the Philadelphia Board of Education deprived them of liberty and property without due process of law.

The teachers are Mrs. Angelina Intille, Mrs. Sadie T. Atkinson, Mrs. Goldie E. Watson and Thomas Deacon.

PENN-MOC CO. ROSE ON ASHES OF TOWN HOPES

Adversity is sometimes just a prod to greater endeavor. For proof one need look no further than the Penn-Moc Corp., Fairfield shoe manufacturing company, which in August will complete an addition to its present facilities.

With the additional 7,500 square feet of space, production may rise as much as 40 per cent and new employees will probably be hired.

Penn-Moc is relatively new to Fairfield although owner-operator Carl Filsinger has been a Fairfield resident since 1948. In 1953 the Fairfield Shoe Co. plant was destroyed by fire and the employment of many community workers was interrupted. Instead of rebuilding in Fairfield, the owners located near Gettysburg, and Fairfield was left high and dry as far as industry was concerned.

Several of the townspeople dissatisfied with this state of affairs canvassed the town to see if financial help might be had to get local industry again. The movement took hold and on April 21, 1954, the Fairfield Improvement Corp. was established and raised money through bonds to rebuild the razed factory.

Carl Filsinger
Carl Filsinger, a native of Germany, had been manager of the destroyed plant. In 1952 he had left Fairfield to work in Nanticoke. When the new factory was erected he returned to Fairfield as owner-operator, having learned shoe-making in his native country. Operation of the plant first began under the name of the Ellen Shoe Co.

In 1956 the firm reorganized as the Penn-Moc Corp. The shoe company employs about 130 persons to turn out about 3,000 pairs of shoes a day and the local payroll amounts to about $300,000 a year. Both production and payroll are expected to rise when the new addition gets into full swing.

Filsinger has been supervising shoe production since 1929, seven years after he arrived in the United States at the age of 19. The veteran shoeman is aided by his son, Earl E. Filsinger. The plant makes men's, women's, and children's shoes.

NEED GREATER MORAL SENSE, FEW BEATINGS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U. N. report said Friday that spanking and whipping do not stop juvenile delinquency and should never be used.

The report — "New Forms of Juvenile Delinquency: Their Origin, Prevention and Treatment" — was prepared by the U. N. Department of Economic and Social Affairs. It said that corporal punishment "should be excluded in any form" and "has practically no effect as a deterrent, especially for those juveniles who have already undergone it."

Corrective agencies, the report said, "should endeavor to develop in the juvenile a sense of moral and social responsibility, through his participation in a world where adults and juveniles live together."

It recommended that young offenders be given as much freedom as possible through the use of open and semi-open institutions. And it said, they "react more favorably" when they know in advance how much time they must serve, rather than when they are confined indefinitely."

Let's Look At The Record

TYRANNY WITH CONSENT
Jefferson Did Not Foresee Mass Persuasion But His Truism Is Still Correct

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior
NO GOVERNMENT can exist without the consent of the governed. Thomas Jefferson said something like the foregoing — along with many other political truisms.

Most students of politics consider it a truism, because it was true long before Jeff got around to saying it.

But there are well informed people today who unhesitatingly challenge the Jeffersonian axiom. It is unthinkable, they argue, that the great mass of German people, with their education and ideals, could have been in consent with the Hitlerian regime.

While the mass of Germans may have accepted him readily in the beginning, they argue, it was the iron tyranny of Hitler's storm troopers and Gestapo that made it impossible for them to withdraw their consent. Thus the allied invaders were in truth liberators.

THEY ALSO cite France during the occupation, 1940-44. There, they argue, was a government of the French, replacing the Third Republic, where there was no consent at all — just German bayonets in every village.

Accordingly, these critics of the Jeffersonian axiom say that, were his statement ever true, it is certainly no longer true. Modernity has brought techniques in tyranny under which those in power cannot be overthrown, consent or no consent! Hence, how can the Russian people ever become free?

JEFFERSON, nevertheless, was right. He is still right!

The bitter truth is that Hitler had not only the consent but also the overwhelming, active support of his people up to the day of his suicide in his bomb-proof, Berlin bunker.

From Aachen to Leipzig, American army unit commanders were constantly on the alert for some sort of German underground of freedom fighters. Agents, parachuted into Germany ahead of the advancing armies to contact and stimulate such an alleged underground, were seldom found alive.

There was no German underground for freedom.

The Germans who had sought to kill Hitler a year earlier were merely military conspirators who thought they could give Germany more competent leadership.

Hitler's rise to a consent-and-support dictatorship over 80 millions of Germans was made possible through their ideals, their mass literacy and in their instinctive interest in public affairs. These very factors of enlightenment made them vulnerable to the most terrific and persuasive propaganda, printed and vocal, this world has ever known.

The fears sold the German people were not of his Gestapo and SS thugs but of the American, British, and Russian armies. His major theme was hatred.

NOW THAT the Hitlerian myth of infallibility has been exploded, his genocidal crimes have been fully exposed and the Americans have proved to be generous, helpful victors, the present generation of West Germans would have you believe they were never for Hitler.

East Germans today consent to a Red puppet government because it is now somewhat better than they knew under Hitler. Promises to be much better, holds a hope for ultimate unification and it certainly better than the chaos of anarchy.

THE SAME motives controlled the submissive French in 1940.

Disgusted with the incompetence of their Third Republic, unwilling to fight another ravaging war of attrition on their own soil, they literally gave consent in formal documents to government by Petain and German occupation forces.

France had to make a quick choice between temporary consent and anarchy. The people gave consent. An artful and especially beamed Hitlerian propaganda made it all the easier. Came D-day and there were many millions of French people who viewed the invading Americans and English columns with uncertainty — and some with hostility!

THESE REMARKS are today prompted by a thin pamphlet of about 40 pages from the pen of Mme. Suzanne Labin. It is entitled "The Technique of Soviet Propaganda." She is a graduate of the University of Sorbonne, an eminent journalist in her own country, and author of "Must We Grant Freedom to Enemies of Freedom?"

A translation of her recent pamphlet may be procured from the Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

It is a study of achievement of consent through lavish propaganda; a form of consent of which Thomas Jefferson never dreamed, when he voiced such apparent confidence in all governments that enjoyed the consent of their people.

Mme. Labin's remedy: A lavish counter-propaganda of truth.

Samuel Richardson, one of the most successful of the 18th Century English novelists, was a printer while he was writing novels. His most successful novels, "Clarissa," were written when he was past 50. He set the type for their first publications himself.

Lions Club

at Benner's pool on Wednesdays with a life guard provided by the club; interest in the Boy and Girl Scout troops of the community; sight conservation; placement of street signs; aid to Beacon Lodge, and sponsorship of a new club.

Glenn Shriner, immediate past president, received the plaque from Corcelious who said that Fairfield ranked first in points in Region Four and third on visitation points. It was the only club in the region to sponsor a new Lions club, that at Cashtown.

The club plans again to sponsor swimming at Benner's pool, located near Fairfield, on Wednesday from 2 to 8 p.m., so that youngsters and others in the community can enjoy the activities. Last year Tom Hyland of Gettysburg served as life guard. This year the committee has not yet been able to find a replacement but hopes to have one available by July 6, opening date.

Last fall the Lions reacted to a plea from Dr. Modi, an eye surgeon and Lions district governor, in India by pledging to aid District 14-C in raising 50,000 glasses and frames for sight work. Members quickly gathered 250 pairs of used glasses which were sent to the Indian clinic.

The club also sent a substantial contribution to Beacon Lodge for the Blind, the state Lions' camp for the blind in the mountains in the Mt. Union-Somerset area. The lodge had under construction a new $7,000 infirmary.

The club also devoted attention to sight conservation within the community arranging for eye examinations and glasses where needed.

The street and road marking project drew approval from the community since it marked the first time in history that streets were designated in Fairfield. The Blue Ridge Pipe and Nipple Co. supplied the steel pipes on which the signs were mounted.

Many of the signs have historical references. Stevens St., for example, takes its name from Thaddeus Stevens, who led the impeachment proceedings against President Andrew Johnson. Stevens owned an iron furnace just west of Fairfield in partnership with James Paxton. He was a frequent visitor to Fairfield usually staying at the hotel which is still in use.

Another significant name is Carroll's Delight, the label given the area claimed by the Carrolls of Maryland whose dream of building an estate in the region was ended when the Mason-Dixon line was set up.

House Committee Scores C. D. Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's civil defense planning is "rudimentary, decentralized, uneven, often irrelevant," a House subcommittee charges.
The Eisenhower administration said a subcommittee report has taken the position that "each individual citizen must be prepared to take care of himself and his family in the event of an enemy attack."
"There is no sense living in a world of make-believe," the Military Operations subcommittee report said Friday. "If the federal government doesn't supply the funds and direct a construction program for communal shelters, there will be no national shelter gram."
